

AS ONE OF 16 CROWD
IN

Governor considers additional prison

Associated Press
By JEFFREY MONTGOMERY

MONTEGO BAY, Jamaica (AP) — Gov.
Bob Riley said Friday he is considering construction of another state prison to ease a backlog of Alabama inmates. The state inmates backed up at state prisons in because of a lack of space. In Montgomery, the Department of Corrections once had 2,844 inmates but that backlog was eliminated last year by sending inmates to private prisons to out-of-state increasing and

expanding community corrections programs, increasing

paroles and community corrections programs, and increasing the use of private prisons out of state, Riley said Friday.

Riley said that the state has reduced its backlog to 1,025 inmates.

Riley said that the state has

reduced its backlog to 1,025 inmates.

Riley said that the state has

reduced its backlog to 1,025 inmates.

Riley said that the state has

reduced its backlog to 1,025 inmates.

Riley said that the state has

reduced its backlog to 1,025 inmates.

Riley said that the state has

reduced its backlog to 1,025 inmates.

Riley said that the state has

reduced its backlog to 1,025 inmates.

Riley said that the state has

reduced its backlog to 1,025 inmates.

Riley said that the state has

reduced its backlog to 1,025 inmates.

Riley said that the state has reduced its backlog to 1,025 inmates.